

A Peek at Our Week

We're Off to a Great Start!

Thank you to all of the families who came out to APTT Thursday night! Your involvement in your child's education is crucial. The next APTT meeting will be November 10th from 5:15-6:45. We will be discussing discipline and managing challenging behaviors. I hope to see everyone there!

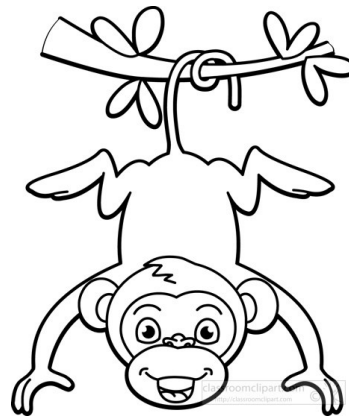

This week we will start to talk about families. During story-time the children will get to take turns sharing their photo album with the class. If you haven't turned your photo album in yet, please do so soon so your child can participate! If you lost your photo album and need an extra one please let me know.

This week I will also start to teach your child about the first letter in their names. They will decorate their letter this week, and play "Hide and Go Seek" with their letter during small group time.

Our literacy emphasis this week will be Hug by Jez Alborough. This book only has one word in it—hug! The pictures are very expressive and do most of the explaining. To encourage language, I will be challenging your children to explain what's happening in the picture since there are few words to read. By the end of the week, I will challenge them to read the word, "hug".
